

Feline Semi-Annual Wellness Visit

The American Animal Hospital Association, by which we are accredited, recommends twice-yearly examinations for pets. Pets age faster than their human counterparts. Our veterinarians help you keep your pet healthy throughout their lifetime by these bi-annual visits. By examining them more than once a year, they are more likely to “catch” issues that may go unnoticed. Thorough examinations are one of the most important things veterinarians do for your cat. In them, they look from nose to tail, looking for any issues your cat may have. Catching and treating most issues early can either help to cure them completely or manage them successfully, making your cat healthier and more comfortable throughout his or her life. A blood chemistry and CBC (Complete Blood Count) assist your veterinarian in diagnosing and treating any conditions found before they can become clinical.

Feline Semi-Annual Wellness visits include:

• Semi-annual wellness examination	$ 68.50
• Semi-annual wellness blood screening	$ 170.93
• Intestinal parasite screening	$ 33.72
• Topical deworming (if due, price depends on weight)
• Heartworm, flea & tick prevention
• Hazardous waste disposal	$ 5.70
TOTAL	$ 278.85

*Any due (or overdue) vaccinations, treatments or diagnostics are additional and will be discussed with you before they are given.

Heartworm, flea and tick products, as well as the topical dewormer, are dispensed based upon the weight of the cat and are, therefore, not included in the total cost. Animal Hospital of Statesville recommends that all cats stay on heartworm, flea and tick prevention year-round for the health and safety of your cat and your family.
